Eisenhower Still 'Happy' To Have Nixon
FIRE RAVAGES FAIRLESS HILLS HOME

Boiler Plant Sold; Owner Is Unknown

Lower Bucks County's industrial picture appeared brighter today with the disclosure that a Bristol plant, now vacant, had been sold, and another, used as a warehouse, was up for sale.

Both plants are located off Green lane, fronting on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

The Pacific Steel Boiler Division plant, empty since last December, has been sold to an out-of-state industrial firm, which will start manufacturing operations in the near future, it was learned.

The second plant involved is the Hunter Wilson Distilling Company warehouse, which has been put up for sale.

Five persons are employed at the warehouse.

Good Thing
A spokesman for the distillery said today, "It might be a good thing for the community if this building was sold and used for manufacturing. The site has 1539 feet of valuable frontage on the (Continued On Page 3, Col. 1)

Good Evening!

Ike's nomination by acclamation.

No surprise, just as the GOP Frisco meeting will be noted as one of the most surprising in history. But it's a nice tribute to a man who's spent less time politicking and more time working for his countrymen while in the White House than perhaps any other President.

No question about Mr. Nixon either.

Only question seems to be what's going to happen to misguided Harold, whose one-man rebellion remains a one-man revolt.

Former President Herbert Hoover still in fine fettle as he gives the GOP some sage advice about creating a declaration of principles capable of rekindling in every American heart a "burning love for the freedom of man."

The 82-year-old elder statesman of the Republican party deserved the tremendous ovation he received. We hope he's around for a few of these big convales.

Chilly night.

Hint of autumn obvious as August rolls along the downslope. Whether you like the idea or not you might as well get ready for it—the first frost.

And it won't be long until vacation time arrives for mama as the kids return to school.

Phils and Roberts lose another to the Cubs and it begins to appear Mayo Smith's ball players have given their all.

The Braves are winning the games that count, incidentally, and we doubt whether either the Dodgers or the Redlegs can stop 'em.

One morning the old-time judge in a western mining camp opened court with the following announcement:

"Gents, I have in hand a check—a bribe you might call it—from the plaintiff for $10,000 and another from the defendant for $15,000. I propose to return $5,000 to the defendant, and decide this case strictly on its merits."

Learn to live a day at a time—that's tough enough.

If you drive, be careful.

VP Rushes To Bedside Of Father

Leaves Convention Suddenly To Visit Dad In Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO—UP—President Eisenhower held court for Republican notables in his hotel suite today as the hour approached for jubilant GOP convention delegates to register formal assent to the renomination of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

In Los Angeles, Frank M. Nixon, the father of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is in critical condition from an arterial condition resulting in internal bleeding, his physician said today.

The vice president rushed from the San Francisco Republican National Convention this morning to be at his father's bedside.

The elder Nixon, 77, the vice president's father, was stricken about 7 a.m. (EDT) with what the family doctor described as a "dissecting aneurysm of the aorta" in the abdomen.

"Mr. Nixon's condition is critical and actually is a splitting of the layers of the wall of an artery," said the physician, who did not wish his name to be used.

"The patient suffers excruciating pain as the blood is forced through the layers of the vessels and nothing can be done to relieve the damaged tissue," he said. "These things frequently terminate fatally," the doctor said. "All we can do is pray."

The elder Nixon, at his own personal request, was not hospitalized.

Vice President Nixon who talked with the doctor this morning asked that the family physician take complete charge as a "personal request."

Harold E. Stassen's dogged hope that Mr. Eisenhower would pull the plug on Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the last minute went a-glimmering with the official word that the president still would be "happy" to have Nixon for a running mate.

White House aides said Mr. Eisenhower expected Nixon to be re-elected. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

L'town Man, Kin Held On Burglary

A Levittown man and his brother-in-law were committed to Bucks County prison last night after they were held without bail on a charge of burglarizing the Simons Lumber Company, Cornwells.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The men were identified as Nick Ercole, 32, of 58 Lakeside drive, Levittown, and Rinaldo Calandra, 32, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Chief William Riemp, of Bensalem township, said both men were also under suspicion for the reported burglary of the Eddington Plumbing Supply company, last October.

The two men were apprehended after they had taken a case of paint and some turpentine from the lumber company.

Roaring Blaze Cuts Inside Of House

Furnishings Destroyed As Family Watches

An $18,950 fire ravaged a Fairless Hills home this morning, completely destroying three rooms and furnishings.

The fire, which spread through more than half the house before it was brought under control, started at about 9:25 a. m. at the home of Joseph R. Hadd, 30, of 134 Bedford road.

Two firemen, Gerald Marshall, assistant chief of Fairless Hills Fire Company, and Steve Westerly, were administered oxygen by Bucks County Rescue Squad, and a third, James W. King, was treated for cuts.

Levittown Emergency Squad treated Marshall for a cut hand and treated Mrs. Hadd for emotional distress.

The house and furnishings, valued at $18,950, were described as a total loss by firemen. Two bedrooms and their furnishings, which escaped fire damage, were ruined by smoke and water.

Mrs. Jean Hadd, at home with her two children, Carey Lee, 6, and Joseph R. Hadd, III, 3-years-old, was too disturbed to describe the fire or tell how she got the children from the house.

She went to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. John Dow, 149 Bedford road, after leaving her burning home.

Heater Started

However, her husband, who was working at Fairless Steel when the fire broke out, said his wife turned on a washing machine in a utility room which automatically started an adjoining hot water heater.

He theorized that the heater ignited nearby drapes and spread through the utility room.

He said his wife was apparently out in the yard hanging clothes, and when she came in, she found the room ablaze.

Firemen said the first alarm was turned in by a neighbor, Mrs. Lou Hackett, and a youngster set off a second alarm at the nearby Fairless Hills fire company headquarters.

Prevent Spreading

About 60 firemen from Fairless Hills, Falls and Levittown Fire Co., No. 1 put the blaze out in less than a half hour, preventing it from spreading to adjacent homes.

Morrisville Council Sets Aside Offer

Residents Protest Use of Commission Land For Playground

The Morrisville Borough Council decided last night to set aside an offer by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to sell the borough a plot of land on Wood street to be used as a playground.

The commission would lease the plot of land to the borough for $1 a year, requiring that the borough take out liability on the property.

The decision to table the matter came after Councilman Neal Nolan said that about 100 residents in the area of the proposed playground appeared before his committee protesting the use of the land as a playground.

Councilman Thomas Purcell agreed with Mr. Nolan and said he felt it was too late in the year to start a playground, and that it would mean more money for upkeep until ready for use.

Sawyer Persistent
Pressing for the borough's acceptance of the land was Councilman John Sawyer, saying that the objecting residents represented only about two per cent of the people in the ward, while the playground would be available to all youngsters in the ward or community.

The issue was referred back to committee for further study.

L. S'hampton May Join Police Net

Lower Southampton Chief of Police Edward Wunsch today announced that the police department has submitted application to join the Bristol township police radio network.

"The Lower Southampton department was formerly connected with the Norristown police radio," Chief Wunsch said. "Recently we were informed, along with the communities of Warminster and Upper Southampton, that a new radio affiliation had to be secured," the law enforcer said.

"Application to join the Bristol township network was made last week. It is expected to be official within the next 10 days," Chief Wunsch added.

A contract calling for $500 for the first radio car and $350 for the second car will probably be signed in the immediate future.

It has not been officially announced as yet but it has been reported that Warminster and Upper Southampton will also make application to join the Bristol township network.

In addition to these townships, the network now includes the townships of Bristol, Middletown, Newtown, and Bensalem, and the Boroughs of Pennell, Tullytown and Newtown.

New Voter Registration

The Bucks County Traveling Registrars are now visiting local municipalities to sign up new voters for the coming November 6, presidential election. The centers are open from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m. Residents can register at any center, not just those in their own municipality.

The registrars will sit at the following places:

TODAY
New Hope Fire House.

East Rockhill Township — Reuben S. Siever's Garage, Ridge road.

TOMORROW
Pennell Fire House.

Warwick Consolidated School, Jamison.

Sellersville Borough — Show room of Schaffer Motors, 218 South Main Street.

3 Cars Crash On U.S. Route 1

Three motorists escaped injury yesterday when a three-car rear end collision occurred on U. S. Route 1 at Trevose road, Bensalem township.

The collision occurred when a vehicle driven by Bernice Branch, 42, of Philadelphia, crashed into the rear of a car operated by Joseph C. Fogle, also of Philadelphia. A third car, which was following Mrs. Branch, and operated by Abraham Wise, of Philadelphia, failed to stop in time and crashed into her car.

The five runnersup who will receive $5 each are: Pat Weller, 14, of 41 Merry Turn road, Levittown, a tenth grade pupil at Delhaas High school; Stewart Alexander, 16, of 4706 Eugene drive and Bath road, eleventh grade pupil at Delhaas; George Lee, 9, of 25 W. Pearl street, Burlington, N. J., fourth grade pupil at St. Paul's; John Schweizer, 16, of 627 Spruce (Continued On Page 3, Col. 1)

Holly Delk, 10, of 66 Kindle lane, Levittown, won the Mill Street Businessmen's Association "Golden Rule Days" slogan contest.

Holly, a sixth grade pupil at the John Fitch School, Levittown, took top honors, and a $25 savings bond, for her slogan "Mill Street Bristol has stood the test. For complete family shopping it's the best."

The Levittown Civic Association is considering a PTA plan that promotes the support of non-political candidates for school board posts.

During a discussion last night, Leonard Friedman was appointed chairman to work out details on the plan. The idea is suggested by national PTA organizations. Through it, all social, civic, service, and other non-political organizations get together in a given municipality.

They hold a "convention" and nominate people on the basis of qualifications only, to run for school board openings. The citizens' groups involved then work actively to get their choice into office.

Ruth Lotto, civic association member, said the plan had been considered by the LCA several years ago. She said late planning and the stumbling block of getting such candidates on a primary ticket, because of the political party setup, had defeated the idea.

In other business, the association talked of plans to hold a forum on the incorporation. The tentative date being considered will be sometime in November.

Arrangements were also completed last night for the association's participation in the Levittown Community Festival to be held this weekend at the Mall of the Shopping Center.

Inside Today's Paper

Two more weeks and school opens. For news of the Lower Bucks School districts and individual schools, you can read today's issues of the Courier and Times.

Most districts will have record enrollments. And several have new schools to be used this year, or are planning new schools.

For Pennsbury High school students, there are homeroom assignments. Parents have another section to consult, too, for school days. That's the special advertising section.

Approaching Ruin

The old Watts House, once a center of activity for community meetings of Levittown organizations, is now near ruin because of vandalism. Owned by the Levitt and Sons firm, it had been turned over to the Levittown Civic association for administration as a Community Center. The organization, however, turned it back to its owners when maintenance became a problem. It is located on the Fallsington-Tullytown road, near the former Route 13 Home Exhibit Center. Notice all the broken windows. (Courier and Times photos) raised the question of purchasing additional parking meters before an up-coming price raise after August 29. The councilman suggested that about 50 new meters were needed and said the cost would be slightly over $2,325. He said the meters were priced at $66 each but the cost of that would be cut by a $20 trade-in offer on each old one.

Police Chief John S. Davis, appearing at the meeting, said that all 36 meters on Pennsylvania avenue are in need of replacement along with others on Bridge and Market streets.

The matter was turned over to the police committee for discussion at a meeting next Monday.

The council approved a motion that the crosswalks and parking spaces should be painted before the opening of school. Work on the painting began today.

Jack Goldberg, 929 Carteret avenue, Trenton, owner of a business on Bridge street, appeared before the council and requested that the parking meters on Market street be taken off for a six-month trial period. The request was denied by the council on the grounds that the meters had been taken out previously and the merchants seemed to want them back.

The finance committee reported that a $1,640 "uncollectable" bill on the books should be written off. The committee reported that the bill was uncollectable because it was decided that legal responsibilities could not be accurately determined. The council voted to write the bill off the books.

The council unanimously voted to make a $500 contribution to the Morrisville Library.

The question of trees pushing up sidewalks in the borough was broached. Shade trees are pushing up sidewalks causing damage to the sidewalks and leaving room for possible injury to passers-by, the council said.

Borough ordinances prevent persons from cutting trees or their roots without permission from the shade tree commission. The matter was referred to the finance committee and to the shade tree commission.

The borough council decided to give vacation pay to hourly employees of the borough based on two per cent of their yearly pay to level out the difference between their vacation pay and that of employees paid weekly.

The council requested the Civil Defense head to submit a yearly report on his organization's activities for the year. A motion to face-lift the park area around the Community Swimming pool was tabled for further study.

Council approved the appointment of John Zack to fill the unexpired term of Francis Triolo on the Board of Adjustment. The term expires January 1, 1959.

Twp. Buys Guard Outfits

The Bristol Township Safety Committee last night opened bids for school crossing guards' uniforms, a panel body pick-up truck and a new police car.

Two bids were submitted for uniforms for the 17 crossing guards. The committee recommended that the Board of Commissioners accept the bid of Hirsch Tyler clothing manufacturer of Philadelphia. The firm offered to supply the uniforms — caps, jackets and skirts for the 10 women guards and caps, jackets and trousers for the seven men guards — for $990. The other bid, submitted by Saco Uniform company, of Philadelphia, was $1045.

Harold Lefcourt, committee chairman, said the township will be the first municipality in this area to have uniformed guards.

Four Truck Bids

Four bids were opened for the truck. The low bidder was Bristol Ford — $1398. But Lefcourt said the firm did not submit a certified check with the bid as required. The committee will check with the township solicitor to see if the bid is acceptable.

Mill Creek Road To Open

The Mill Creek road stretch between Mill Creek parkway and Edgely avenue will be completed and opened to traffic tomorrow, Bristol Township Roadmaster Bill McCool said today.

The 1800 or more foot area has been reconstructed and widened. Better drainage facilities have also been provided. Bristol Township workmen have been working on the road for the past two weeks. During that time, it has been opened and closed intermittently for the convenience of motorists.

A top surface was put on today.

Mother Reported Slightly Improved

Mrs. Irene Niemczak, 19 South Eastview avenue, Feasterville, was reported slightly improved at Nazareth hospital this morning. Mrs. Niemczak was critically injured in an automobile accident which killed her two-year-old daughter, Loretta, on Monday. The accident occurred on Bustleton pike near Bell's Corner.

Egypt Set to Quell Suez Pilot Revolt

LONDON — UP — Egypt hinted today it would take action against British and French ships in the Suez Canal zone if French and British pilots resign or "feign sickness" in order to disrupt navigation on the waterway.

Dispatches from Cairo made it clear the Suez crisis was far from ended despite the Suez conference.

railroad and probably could attract an industry which might employ several hundred workers.

The real estate firm wouldn't identify the name of the firm which has purchased the Pacific Steel Boiler plant. A spokesman for the agent said "Settlement is not quite completed yet." But he added that the new owners would probably issue a statement as to the number of people who would be employed and the type of work which would be carried on.

The plant was closed down last December following a merger of the Pacific firm with National U. S. Radiator Corp. The local operations were transferred to Middletown, near Harrisburg. Only a skeleton maintenance crew is employed at the plant now.

Gaither Page, plant supervisor at the Hunter Wilson building, said the plant has been used merely as a warehouse since 1953. Five men are employed to store barrels of whiskey.

Before 1953 whiskey was bottled at the plant and an average of 150 workers employed, Page said.

He said he didn't know anything about the latest developments except that the building has been placed in the hands of a real estate agent and a sale sign posted on the building.

He added that the one story building has 152,000 square feet of floor space and sits on a 35-acre site.

The winners will receive their prizes tomorrow morning. Leon Kanter, chairman of the Businessmen's Association's promotion committee, will present the awards.

The winners were selected by a committee of merchants who served as judges.

The contest was held in connection with the association's "Back to School" promotion which will be held tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The Mill St. Businessmen have a special Golden Rule Days edition which is included in today's paper.

They will also be giving away free rulers to children.

Falls Rejects Ordinance On Firearms

The Falls Township Board of Supervisors last night rejected a proposed ordinance that would almost prohibit the use and sale of firearms in the township.

Following the rejection, the Board decided to meet with members of the National Rifle association, the Township's recreation department and other interested individuals sometime in the next ten days to gather suggestions that would contribute to an ordinance that would be satisfactory to a larger group of residents.

The rejection in a good measure was due to the opinions expressed by NRA representatives last night who said they felt the proposed ordinance would restrict the use of guns as a sport in the area.

Dixon P. Blanchard, chief instructor of the Lower Bucks County Junior Rifle club told how his group's program stressed and promoted safety in a rifle program. Robert Frederick, former president of the Levittown Civic association also spoke against a strong ordinance and for a ruling that would allow the recreational sport.

In other business, the board took under advisement an ordinance dealing with the construction of phone booths in the township.

Bristol Set For Contest

Bristol, for the seventh consecutive year, will be the scene of the Eastern States Championship Drum and Bugle Corps contest on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Bands and marchers from all over the Eastern boards will strut and play under the arc lights of the Bristol High School stadium athletic field that evening in the "World Series of Drum and Bugle Corps."

The National Drum and Bugle Corps association made the decision to return to Bristol at a recent meeting in Jersey City, N. J., citing the hearty welcome the borough of Bristol accorded them in the past years.

Arthur Straccio, director of the Braeken American Legion cadets of Bristol, host corps, predicted that the 1956 contest will see the "finest array of drum and bugle corps ever" to appear on a competing contest field.

Music Circus 'Can-Can' Rates With The Best

You'll like Cole Porter's "Can-Can" at St. John Terrell's Music Circus at Lambertville.

No difference if you've already seen the Broadway or road versions. The lively, provocative, slightly naughty and occasionally zany Music Circus production compares favorably with either.

The girls are pretty and they dance with zest.

The cast leaves little to be desired for who is comprised of "pros" who have been around and get in the mood of Paris' wicked Montmartre of the 1890's with delightful enthusiasm.

Veteran Player

Ferdinand Hilt, who plays the confused Judge Aristide Forestier who has difficulty distinguishing between right and wrong is a veteran of the original Broadway "Can-Can" company. After chasing justice all evening he finally finds it in India Adams, another seasoned "Can-Can" performer who sings, dances and loves well, even while chasing a quick dollar with her "laundresses" and keeping them out of the clutches of the police and the courts.

Leonard Elliott as Boris, the frustrated sculptor, provides the production the high comedy for which it is nearly as famous as it is for its "Can-Can" dancers. He shares honors with Erik Rhodes, also a member of the original Broadway cast, who as Hilaire, the newspaper critic takes advantage of every license of the trade. The hilarious duel between Boris and Hilaire is a show-stopper.

Sings, Dances
Merceda Dodge who plays Claudine, Boris' not-so-faithful sweetheart, sings and dances with complete abandon and Ray Kirchner, of Broadway and television fame perfectly complements her work.

The production is all fun with never a serious moment. If the opening night last night was any criterion, "Can-Can" should set a new attendance record during its three-weeks' run at Music Mountain. The premiere was a complete sell-out. — — — GGG

Stassen sought a place in the parade but was told that there was no chance of an appointment before this afternoon, if then.

The hard to discourage Minnesota had one more string to his bow, however. He appealed to Martin for a chance to address the convention before the vice presidential balloting began. Martin wondered out loud whether Stassen might be planning to "throw in the towel" on his dump-Nixon campaign. But Stassen refused to reveal in advance what he had in mind.

Block Stassen Threat

Some pro-Nixon delegations threatened to block the appearance of Stassen who, as a non-delegate, requires unanimous consent to speak. But Nixon urged his supporters to let Stassen say his piece.

A few individual delegates, like Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, were still talking of objecting to a Stassen appearance. But in the noise and confusion of a convention session in the vast Cow Palace, it would be easy enough for Chairman Martin to suffer a hearing lapse on scattered "noes" and gavel through permission for Stassen to take the rostrum.

The victory fever which seized the delegates upon Mr. Eisenhower's arrival from Washington on Tuesday night mounted steadily today as the hour approached for the nominating session.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, a two-time loser for the presidency, drew the task of warming up the delegates with a speech before they began voting for the renomination of their first winning ticket in 24 years.

Dewey charged that the last Democratic administration was marked by "fixing and bribe taking" and said Democrats now "want to start doing it all over again."

Police Investigate L'town Burglary

Bristol township police today are investigating a reported burglary at the home of Mrs. Claire Nathanson, 27 Oaktree drive, Levittown.

Mrs. Nathanson told police her husband missed his watch and a gold chain when he prepared to leave for work this morning. The housewife told police investigators that the burglary presumably took place sometime yesterday afternoon when she went to the movies.

Police said Mrs. Nathanson told them that the burglar must have gained entrance with a key that they had misplaced or lost.

The Nathansons did not miss the watch until this morning, police said. Criminal investigation detectives Wallace Michener, Charles Haines and Sgt. Thomas Stewart believe the burglary may have been committed by a juvenile.

Driver Is Jailed On Drunk Charge

Al Bower, 33, of Levittown, was committed to Bucks County Prison yesterday on a drunk driving charge.

Bower, who was brought in on a bail bond, is being held for trial in county criminal court.

Snowball, Pine Park, Magnolia

3 Pools Holding Contests For Tots

A Master and Miss Snowball Parade is being planned for the Snowball Gate Park pool on Friday beginning at 4 p.m.

The event is open to all children of LPRA subscribers. Age limit: one to six years, inclusive.

The children may toddle or walk through the parade which will circle the pool, or ride in decorated baby carriages or strollers or in floats.

The four judges, as yet unnamed, will award four prizes as follows: to Master Snowball and Miss Snowball, based on personality, beauty and poise, a prize to the prettiest float and a prize to the funniest float.

Miss Snowball and the two girl babies who are runners-up, will be invited to compete in the Miss Levittown contest, scheduled for Saturday, 7:30 p.m., on the shopping center mall.

Miss Pine-Tot

Friday evening at 7:15 p.m. is the time set for the finals of the Miss Pine-Tot contest at Pine Park pool. Fifteen youngsters between two and six years of age survived the elimination parade staged earlier this week and are all primed for the finals.

The winner will receive a trophy cup with other prizes for the two runners-up.

Magnolia Pool

"Little Mag Charming," of the Magnolia Park Pool will be chosen tonight at 6 p.m., life guards announced today.

Semi-finals held last night selected 21 little girls, from two to five years old, who will compete for the title.

Judges for last night's contest were: Mrs. Simone Wiler, Mr. Bernard Dunn, Connie Boyle, and Norman Reeves.

Roaring Blaze Guts Fairless Hills Home

Davison, 616 Auburn road, his son and another boy tried to extinguish the blaze with garden hoses. The only thing they managed to get out of the home was a chair.

Davison, who said he built the utility room for the Hadds, explained that he was working at the home of Mrs. Dow when he saw the fire.

Davison said he helped back the Hadd's car out of the garage which adjoins the house. Only a small corner of the garage was damaged, however.

Hadd explained that his furniture is only partially covered by insurance. After the fire was extinguished, firemen moved the charred and smoldering furniture onto the lawn. None of it appeared salvageable.

Hadd and his family are staying at the Dow home until they can move into new quarters.

Offered House

He said the Danherst Corp. has already offered him the use of a vacant house at 115 Bedford road. The Red Cross and neighbors have offered him temporary furnishings, linen and bed clothing.

The husband, recently out of work because of the steel strike, was considerably upset by the loss. He talked chokingly, and his eyes were ringed with tears. His wife is even more upset.

A huge crowd ringed fire trucks and watched as the fire burned through the utility room, kitchen and living room. Intense heat shattered some windows, and others were broken to allow firemen to fight the blaze.

himself burned by the acid he allegedly threw into Riesel's eyes on April 5. The FBI in announcing that Telvi had thrown the acid, said he had scarred his own face with it, thus making him so "hot" his associates killed him.

City police, however, say they did not notice any scars on Telvi's face when his body was examined last week and got court permission to re-examine the remains.

Seeing Levittown

By LYDIA BOGANE

Because the door frame of the Rancher style frame home is a half inch too narrow, some lucky person or organization has a chance to get a free piano. Mrs. Louise Schwanke of 61 Horseshoe Lane, Holly Hill, is willing to give you a pretty good upright one just so she could have extra space in her living room.

She wanted to put it in her son's room, but they couldn't get the thing through the bedroom door. Call her at WI-5-3647 if you're interested. But you must cart it away and she says it will take at least two men.

Peggy Frederick is pleading with Levittowners to stop calling her Lit Brothers. Her phone number is WI-6-6551 and Lit Brothers in Trenton is Ex-6-6551. At least once a day somebody calls and asks her for the hardware or complaint department and minutes pass before she can explain they have the wrong number.

Bristol Township Solicitor Gil Kraus threw a picnic party for the Commissioners on Saturday at his pretty farm place in Furlong.

Cecil Goodman of 67 Ironwood road told her young son Robert that peat moss is put on the lawn to make things grow when he started asking questions about the brown stuff. Later in the day, four year old Robert spotted a cake Mom baked that was covered with shredded chocolate. "Oh goody," said Robert, "Peat Moss Icing!"

I am sorry to tell all the residents of Red Cedar that the rumor of a doctor moving into the corner house on Return lane isn't so. The couple that recently purchased the house have had a lot of people asking them about a doctor living there. I would personally like to wish Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kirsh, 2 Return lane, much good luck in their new home here in Red Cedar Hill. They hail from Philadelphia.

Have you noticed the new brick work outside of the Bouffard residence on Ruby lane? Mr. Gene Bouffard is doing the work himself and I must say it's a very nice job. It looks just like a jubilee even to the extended brick wall off to the side.

Mrs. Ann Marr, Red Cedar drive, has just recently finished painting her kitchen. It's a very pretty pink and brown.

Don't forget to call me concerning your news as I have no way of keeping in touch with all of you if you don't call.

Eisenhower Still 'Happy' To Have Nixon SECOND ST. PIKE SOLUTION NEARS

Boiler Plant Sold; Owner Is Unknown

Lower Bucks County's industrial picture appeared brighter today with the disclosure that a Bristol plant, now vacant, had been sold, and another, used as a warehouse, was up for sale.

Both plants are located off Green Lane, fronting on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

The Pacific Steel Boiler Division plant, empty since last December, has been sold to an out-of-state industrial firm, which will start manufacturing operations in the near future, it was learned.

The second plant involved is the Hunter Wilson Distilling Company warehouse, which has been put up for sale.

Five persons are employed at the warehouse.

Good Thing
A spokesman for the distillery said today, "It might be a good thing for the community if this building was sold and used for manufacturing. The site has 1539 feet of valuable frontage on the railroad and probably could attract an industry which might employ several hundred workers."

The real estate firm wouldn't identify the name of the firm which has purchased the Pacific Steel Boiler plant. A spokesman for the agent said "Settlement is not quite completed yet." But he added that the new owners would probably issue a statement as to the number of people who would be employed and the type of work which would be carried on.

Closed Down
The plant was closed down last December following a merger of the Pacific firm with National U. S. Radiator Corp. The local operations were transferred to Middletown, near Harrisburg. Only a skeleton maintenance crew is employed at the plant now.

Gaither Page, plant supervisor at the Hunter Wilson building, said the plant has been used merely as a warehouse since 1953. Five men are employed to store barrels of whiskey.

Before 1953 whiskey was bottled at the plant and an average of 150 workers employed, Page said.

He said he didn't know anything (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Good Evening!
Ike's nomination by acclamation.

No surprise, just as the GOP Frisco meeting will be noted as one of the most surprising in history. But it's a nice tribute to a man who's spent less time politicking and more time working for his countrymen while in the White House than perhaps any other President.

No question about Mr. Nixon either.

Only question seems to be what's going to happen to misguided Harold whose one-man rebellion remains a one-man revolt.

Former President Herbert Hoover still in fine fettle as he gives the GOP some sage advice about creating a declaration of principles capable of rekindling in every American heart a "burning love for the freedom of man."

The 82-year-old elder statesman of the Republican party deserved the tremendous ovation he received. We hope he's around for a few of these big conclaves.

Chilly night.

Hint of autumn obvious as August rolls along the downside. Whether you like the idea or not you might as well get ready for it—the first frost.

And it won't be long until vacation time arrives for mama as the kids return to school.

Phils and Roberts lose another to the Cubs and it begins to appear Mayo Smith's ball players have given their all.

The Braves are winning the games that count, incidentally, and we doubt whether either the Dodgers or the Redlegs can stop 'em.

One morning the old-time judge in a western mining camp opened court with the following announcement:

"Gents, I have in hand a check—a bribe you might call it—from the plaintiff for $10,000 and another from the defendant for $15,000. I propose to return $5,000 to the defendant, and decide this case strictly on its merits."

Learn to live a day at a time—that's tough enough.

If you drive, be careful.

Stassen Seeks Last-Ditch Appeal Before Delegates

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO UP — Vice President Richard M. Nixon decided to leave the Republican National Convention and fly to Los Angeles early today because of the serious illness of his father, Frank Nixon.

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — President Eisenhower held court for Republican notables in his hotel suite today as the hour approached for jubilant GOP convention delegates to register formal assent to the renomination of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

Harold E. Stassen's dogged hope that Mr. Eisenhower would pull the plug on Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the last minute went a glimmering with the official word that the president still would be "happy" to have Nixon for a running mate.

White House aides said Mr. Eisenhower expected Nixon to be renominated, without fuss or feathers, at this afternoon's convention session.

Plays Convention Politics
The President meantime plunged with apparent relish into what he called the "interesting" game of convention politics. Big names of the party, including National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Convention Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr., were invited to his heavily-guarded suite in the St. Francis Hotel in a steady parade during the morning.

Stassen sought a place in the parade but was told that there was no chance of an appointment before this afternoon, if then.

The hard to discourage Minnesotan had one more string to his bow, however. He appealed to Martin for a chance to address the convention before the vice presidential balloting began. Martin wondered out loud whether Stassen might be planning to (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

L'town Man, Kin Held On Burglary
A Levittown man and his brother-in-law were committed to Bucks County prison last night after they were held without bail on a charge of burglarizing the Simons Lumber Company, Cornwells.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The men were identified as Nick Ercole, 32, of 58 Lakeside drive, Levittown, and Rinaldo Calandra, 32, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Chief William Riamp, of Bensalem township, said both men were also under suspicion for the reported burglary of the Eddington Plumbing Supply company, last October.

The two men were apprehended after they had taken a case of paint and some turpentine from the lumber company.

U.S. Southampton Twp. Voters Register
Residents of Upper Southampton Township, who are of voting age but not registered, have until 9 o'clock tonight to sign up in their home township.

Bucks County's traveling registrars were scheduled to start signing up prospective voters at 2 p.m. today in Fleck's Appliance Store, Street road, Southampton. This is their only stop in Upper Southampton Township.

All residents who have just come of voting age, or persons who have recently moved into the township are urged to register so they may vote in the November election.

Southampton Fire Carnival 'Success'
Southampton Fire Company volunteers took down their carnival stands last night, and will pack them away until next year's event.

"Our carnival was sure a great success," said Fireman Bob Quinn, one of the workers.

Afro-Asian Bloc Split On Suez Canal

17 of 22 Nations Voice Support For Dulles Plan

LONDON—UP — Overwhelming support for the Dulles plan for international operation of the Suez Canal put Egypt on the spot today but apparently did not weaken its firm stand.

The Big Three split the Afro-Asian bloc and lined up 17 of the 22 nations attending the Suez conference in favor of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' proposals.

Delegates today began selection of a committee of small nations to take the Dulles' plan to Cairo despite advance warning it was unacceptable to President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

L. S'hampton May Join Police Net

Lower Southampton Chief of Police Edward Wunsch today announced that the police department has submitted application to join the Bristol township police radio network.

"The Lower Southampton department was formerly connected with the Norristown police radio," Chief Wunsch said. "Recently we were informed, along with the communities of Warminster and Upper Southampton, that a new radio affiliation had to be secured," the law enforcer said.

"Application to join the Bristol township network was made last week. It is expected to be official within the next 10 days," Chief Wunsch added.

A contract calling for $500 for the first radio car and $350 for the second car will probably be signed in the immediate future.

It has not been officially announced as yet but it has been reported that Warminster and Upper Southampton will also make application to join the Bristol township network.

In addition to these townships, the network now includes the townships of Bristol, Middletown, Newtown, and Bensalem, and the Boroughs of Pennell, Tullytown and Newtown.

Players Give Performances
The curtain will rise tomorrow night at 8:30 on the first of three one-act plays to be presented by the Southampton Players at their barn, Street and Cushman roads, Southampton.

The three plays, "Double Date," "Sorry, Wrong Number," and "The Sisters McIntosh," will be presented again on Friday and Saturday nights.

The first play features teenage talent, while the second was chosen to give a strong element of drama and suspense, according to Jean Nagler, publicity chairman. The last play is a "zany" comedy, she explained.

All residents who have just come of voting age, or persons who have recently moved into the township are urged to register so they may vote in the November election.

Feasterville Party Sept. 7
Mothers, who have enrolled or expect to enroll their youngsters in the Feasterville kindergarten, are invited to a get-acquainted party Sept. 7 at 7 p.m., it was announced today.

The event is scheduled to help acquaint teachers, mothers and children. It is suggested that mothers bring the youngsters with them.

It will be held in the kindergarten room at the Feasterville Community Church.

The Feasterville kindergarten is conducted by a committee of seven mothers, and was established due to the lack of a public school kindergarten in Lower Southampton Township.

The demand for such a kindergarten has prompted sponsors to increase their schedule, and for the first time afternoon sessions will be conducted.

Kindergarten classes will begin Sept. 10, three days after the get-acquainted party.

Construction Work Given Right of Way

Residents Agree Not To File Damage Claims From Project

If your favorite tree gets scraped or your petunia bed gets mowed under — don't sue, Southamptonites!

Property owners along Second Street pike, Southampton, were asked last night by the Upper Southampton supervisors to forget about property damage claims resulting from construction of sidewalks and curbing involved in the widening of the pike.

Most agreed — and this brought Upper Southampton officials closer to a solution to the long-discussed sidewalk question.

Almost 30 owners of shops, businesses and houses along Second Street pike attended last night's special session in the township building.

Sign Statement
The property owners were asked to sign a printed statement through which they would agree not to take action against the township or state if their properties should be damaged during construction.

Under present plans, the sidewalks will be constructed by the State Highway Department, but underwritten by the township. In (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Two more weeks and school opens. For news of the Lower Bucks School districts and individual schools, you can read today's issues of the Courier and Times.

Most districts will have record enrollments. And several have new schools to be used this year, or are planning new schools.

For Pennsbury High school students, there are homeroom assignments. Parents have another section to consult, too, for school days. That's the special advertising section.

$75,000 Catholic Church Is Opened In Somerton

GOP Holds Out Hope For Tax Cut

SAN FRANCISCO—UP—Republicans today held out hope for a tax cut, "reasonably" soon and for everybody, if they are returned to office in November.

They also promised continued peace and prosperity under President Eisenhower, enforcement of civil rights laws, extension of the minimum wage, and national defense second to none.

The pledges were made last night as the Republican National Convention shouted its approval of a 1956 party platform drafted by a Preamble

The document was prefaced by a preamble, along lines proposed by former President Herbert Hoover, affirming Republican faith in freedom, God, and principles on which the nation was founded.

Using a new device to present the platform, convention planners dispensed with its reading to the convention and instead called Mr. Eisenhower's cabinet officers one by one to the rostrum to say how they intended to carry out the party pledges.

The tax plank did not say when or how a new Republican administration would cut taxes, except that the most relief would go to those in the lower brackets.

Women Talks Break Record

CONVENTION HALL, San Francisco UP—Fifteen women spoke in 30 minutes—a record, according to some males—at the Republican National Convention's gay, colorful ladies' day.

The feminine orators, top leaders in government and politics, outnumbered their counterparts at past Republican conventions, but they still managed to jam their oratory into a bare half hour.

The women, who were a feature at yesterday's marathon session, were upstaged by the arrival of President Eisenhower at nearby International Airport and gave their brief speeches to a half-empty Cow Palace.

Renewed Search For Body Planned

Burlington county and Fort Dix officials agreed to join forces in a renewed search for the body of a 21-year-old woman who drowned last month in Crosswicks Creek.

Mercer County's Freeholders requested such action in a resolution passed August 8. The Freeholders joined with Fort Dix officials yesterday in an all-out search for the body of Mrs. Ann Tupper, Mrs. Tupper and her husband, Lt. Raymond E. Tupper, were last seen canoeing on the creek July 14. The husband's body was recovered.

Mrs. Gerber, who was 54, and lived at 1233 Ruscomb street, was the wife of Albert Gerber, operator of the Langhorne Speedway. She died in Abington Memorial hospital on Saturday from injuries she suffered when her automobile collided with a truck last Thursday.

She was on the membership council of citywide Hadassah and worked on all major projects of Logan Hadassah. She was also a member of Congregation Beth Shalom and its sisterhood.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two sons, Lewis and Lieutenant Joseph M., of the U. S. Army; two sisters and two brothers.

JOHN A. FLETCHER

Bristol, for the seventh consecutive year, will be the scene of the Eastern States Championship Drum and Bugle Corps contest on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Bands and marchers from all over the Eastern boards will strut and play under the arc lights of the Bristol High School stadium athletic field that evening in the "World Series of Drum and Bugle Corps."

The National Drum and Bugle Corps association made the decision to return to Bristol at a recent meeting in Jersey City, N. J., citing the hearty welcome the borough of Bristol accorded them in the past years.

2 Sailors Face More Charges

MOUNT HOLLY, N.J. — UP — Two AWOL sailors, who drew suspended sentences in Burlington County court on charges of carrying concealed weapons and possession of burglary tools, today faced possible prosecution by other counties and by the Navy.

Burlington County Judge W. Thomas McGann sentenced James F. McInerney, 19, of Narberth, Pa., and George W. Demaree, 18, of Darien, Conn., to one year to 18 months in prison yesterday. He suspended the sentences, however, so the youths could be turned over to Cape May County officials, who also have detainees against them.

U. S. Navy and Bergen County officials also want the pair for questioning.

The youths were picked up in a stolen car July 23 on Rt. 130 in Cinnaminson Township with two Ardmore, Pa. girls who told police they had double-dated with the sailors in Philadelphia. The girls were not held.

Police found rifles, shotguns and burglary tools in the car, along with some photograph equipment.

Sales Tax Filing Deadline Extended

HARRISBURG UP — The Revenue Department has extended the Aug. 31 limit for filing July returns on the three percent sales tax for ten days until Sept. 10.

The department said printers have been delayed in supplying forms which will be used in the future for filing the returns. Since the department will not be able to complete mailing of the forms until the end of this week, the extension was granted to permit merchants additional time to study them.

Those filing tax returns also were reminded that the deadline for taking credit on the $2 fee they paid for the sales tax licenses expires Sept. 30.

Patriot Gets Independence Hall Section

PHILADELPHIA — UP — An antique collector proved himself a patriot today after outbidding all others at a public auction on timbers from historic Independence Hall.

Henry Gouse promised he would keep only a few of the 12 by 13 inches by five feet wooden beams and turn the rest over to Independence Hall.

Gouse, a retired businessman, celebrated his 61st birthday anniversary yesterday by successfully outbidding about six others, including the Independence Hall Association, a civic group. He got the lot for $2,200.

The timbers were part of the assets of W. H. Deisroth Co., paper box manufacturers, which went into bankruptcy. The firm acquired them from a builder who in turn got them from a Hall superintendent after the shrine underwent remodeling in 1897.

Affidavits stated they were original beams that supported the floor on which such illustrious patriots as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin trod as they worked on the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of rights.

3 Cars Crash On U.S. Route 1

Three motorists escaped injury yesterday when a three-car rear end collision occurred on U. S. Route 1 at Treves road, Bensalem township.

The collision occurred when a vehicle driven by Bernice Branch, 42, of Philadelphia, crashed into the rear of a car operated by Joseph C. Fogle, also of Philadelphia. A third car, which was following Mrs. Branch, and operated by Abraham Wise, of Philadelphia, failed to stop in time and crashed into her car.

Total damage was estimated near $900. Patrolman Alex Mock-natch investigated the accident.

New Building Will Seat 800 Persons

Officials of St. Christopher's Roman Catholic Church, Somerton, have announced the opening of their new $75,000 stone edifice.

Six Masses will be celebrated at the new church every Sunday, as well as one Mass each weekday morning, church leaders reported.

The new building will seat 800 persons. It is 50 feet wide, 147 feet long, and 14 and a half feet high. The church has a wrought iron altar rail, part of a gift of parish school children who held cake sales on eight consecutive Sundays last spring. The children gained over $2,200 through this project.

Until now, church services have been held in a small church building and in the parish school.

St. Christopher's Parish was established as a mission parish in 1916, and remained so until 1950. In that year the Rev. Christopher Purcell was appointed its first pastor.

India today's session would be the last.

But Cairo hinted that Nasser would be more willing to receive a delegation from both sides with both the Dulles plan and the one put forward by India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

India Wins Support

India had the full support of Egypt and the Soviet Union in its plan which would merely set up an "advisory" body for the canal. Lined up with them was Indonesia.

Ceylon and Spain were still sitting on the fence.

But the big break of the conference came when the Afro-Asian bloc forged at Bandung split wide open on the issue. Pakistan, Iran, Turkey and Ethiopia sided with the West and Dulles suggested his plan be known as a five-nation proposal.

Also supporting the American stand were Britain, France, Japan, Holland, West Germany, Portugal, Australia, Denmark, New Zealand, Norway, Sweden and Italy.

Local Campaign Interests Delegate

A delegate to the Republican national convention was more than a little interested in the local situation when he called a prominent Southampton Republican this week end from the convention state.

County Chairman Fred Ziegler, calling from Santa Barbara, Calif., questioned John J. McIlhinney extensively on how the local campaign was rolling along.

Ziegler's comment on the convention situation: "things are shaping up well out here."

Roll Call Of States

The next business, according to the official program, was to be a roll call of the states to nominate vice presidential candidates, followed by balloting.

This was the stage of the proceedings at which Stassen asked to speak.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower did not plan to visit the convention hall today, but would save his climactic appearance before the delegates for Thursday evening when he delivers his acceptance speech.

Instead, Mr. Eisenhower plunged into a busy schedule of conferences with leading Republicans.

Sings, Dances

Merella Dodge who plays Claudine, Boris' not-so-faithful sweetheart, sings and dances with complete abandon and Ray Kirchner, of Broadway and television fame perfectly complements her work.

The production is all fun with never a serious moment. If the opening night last night was any criterion, "Can-Can" should set a new attendance record during its three-weeks' run at Music Mountain. The premiere was a complete sell-out. — — — GGG

"throw in the towel" on his dump-Nixon campaign. But Stassen refused to reveal in advance what he had in mind.

Block Stassen Threat

Some pro-Nixon delegations threatened to block the appearance of Stassen who, as a non-delegate, requires unanimous consent to speak. But Nixon urged his supporters to let Stassen say his piece.

A few individual delegates, like Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, were still talking of objecting to a Stassen appearance. But in the noise and confusion of a convention session in the vast Cow Palace, it would be easy enough for Chairman Martin to suffer a hearing lapse on scattered "noes" and gavel through permission for Stassen to take the rostrum.

The victory fever which seized the delegates upon Mr. Eisenhower's arrival from Washington on Tuesday night mounted steadily today as the hour approached for the nominating session.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, a two-time loser for the presidency, drew the task of warming up the delegates with a speech before they began voting for the renomination of their first winning ticket in 24 years.

Throws Back Attack

"It's our job to see that they don't get the chance," he said in his prepared speech. "Four years ago the American people won honest, high-minded capable government. We have it today and we should go out and make sure we kept it. That is a job for every American in this election."

Dewey threw back at the Democrats former President Truman's attack on Adlai E. Stevenson last week before Stevenson won the party's nomination for president. He quoted other pre-nomination comments by one Democrat or another.

"Why if any Republican said those things the Democrats would cry from the housetops that we were campaigning from the gutter," Dewey said. "That we will not do. We will leave it to the Democrat leaders to appraise each other at whatever level they find most appropriate."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, former House Republican floor leader, drew the honor of placing Mr. Eisenhower's name in nomination. The delegates had to sit through eight seconding speeches before they could give out the mighty roar that would nominate Mr. Eisenhower by acclamation.

Lower Bucks Best Teen Swimmers Meet Scheduled

Some of the best teenage swimmers of lower Bucks County will compete at Levittown's Country Club Park pool on Sept. 2. The occasion—Junior Olympics Day.

Sponsoring the event is the Bucks County Olympians, a newly organized group that seeks to encourage interest in Olympic-type sports events and to develop athletic talent for future Olympic competition.

Preliminary swim meets to select entrants for the Junior Olympics will be held this Saturday at all Levittown pools and at other pools throughout lower Bucks county. A variety of swim events are planned for both boys and girls of 17 years of age and younger.

Events Include

The events include: free style swimming, back stroke, breast stroke, butterfly, relay races and diving. The children will compete only against those of their own age group.

Acting chairman of the Bucks County Olympians is Jack Trinsley, Hulmeville. Mary Freeman Kelly, a former national swimming champion and sister-in-law to the Princess of Monaco, is consultant to the group.

The Junior Olympic program is under the national supervision of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. All swimmers who qualify for the finals on Sept. 2 will be required to apply for regulation Middle Atlantic region AAU membership. Application forms will be available at the pools.

Co-operating with the Bucks County Olympians are many athletic leaders and organizations including the Levittown Public Recreation association.

In preparation for Junior Olympics Day, the LPRA has been conducting its own competitive swim program. Since Aug. 8, the LPRA staff and American Red Cross instructors have been coaching Levittown youngsters in the fine points of swim competition.

About 200 of the community's young swimmers and divers are expected to compete in the preliminaries this Saturday. According to Dick Gorus, executive director of the LPRA, there are some exceptionally fine young athletes in Levittown who may very well take top honors on Sept. 2.

turn, the township will assess the property owners.

The project will cost property owners 10 per cent of the assessed value of the curbing and sidewalks. However, they will be reimbursed "in kind" where sidewalks already exist.

More signatures are needed on the anti-damage-claim forms, due to absences last night, and because of those who left the session without signing. But, township officials were encouraged by the cooperation of most the property owners.

In Attendance

Among property owners attending last night's meeting were Morris Twining, Eugene Swank, L. C. Laurence, Carmen Reggero, Ellison Morris, Walter E. Ridge, William Long, Norman Speller, Helene Meinhardt, Mrs. Henry Strathmann, Albert Herz, Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Knauer and Russell Blanks.

Each was advised as to how construction would affect his property. Each examined blue prints, and was shown profiles which illustrated grading among other things.

At the outset of the meeting Supervisor Don Delmanzo explained that the right-of-way was recently decreased from 60 to 50 feet, through an agreement with the state, so that the project would not cut deep into the various Second Street properties.

"But something can always happen along the edge of construction," he continued, "so we're asking you to cooperate and agree not to sue or collect damages if anything happens."

Eisenhower Still 'Happy' To Have Nixon
FIRE RAVAGES FAIRLESS HILLS HOME

Boiler Plant Sold; Owner Is Unknown

Lower Bucks County's industrial picture appeared brighter today with the disclosure that a Bristol plant, now vacant, had been sold, and another, used as a warehouse, was up for sale.

Both plants are located off Green lane, fronting on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

The Pacific Steel Boiler Division plant, empty since last December, has been sold to an out-of-state industrial firm, which will start manufacturing operations in the near future, it was learned.

The second plant involved is the Hunter Wilson Distilling Company warehouse, which has been put up for sale.

Five persons are employed at the warehouse.

Good Thing

A spokesman for the distillery said today, "It might be a good thing for the community if this building was sold and used for manufacturing. The site has 1839 feet of valuable frontage on the (Continued On Page 3, Col. 1)

Good Evening!

Ike's nomination by acclamation.

No surprise, just as the GOP Frisco meeting will be noted as one of the most unsurprising in history. But it's a nice tribute to a man who's spent less time politicking and more time working for his countrymen while in the White House than perhaps any other President.

No question about Mr. Nixon either.

Only question seems to be what's going to happen to misguided Harold whose one-man rebellion remains a one-man revolt.

Former President Herbert Hoover still in fine fettle as he gives the GOP some sage advice about creating a declaration of principles capable of rekindling in every American heart a "burning love for the freedom of man."

The 82-year-old elder statesman of the Republican party deserved the tremendous ovation he received. We hope he's around for a few of these big conclaves.

Chilly night.

Hint of autumn obvious as August rolls along the downside. Whether you like the idea or not you might as well get ready for it—the first frost.

And it won't be long until vacation time arrives for mama as the kids return to school.

Philis and Roberts lose another to the Cubs and it begins to appear Mayo Smith's ball players have given their all.

The Braves are winning the games that count, incidentally, and we doubt whether either the Dodgers or the Redlegs can stop 'em.

One morning the old-time judge in a western mining camp opened court with the following announcement:

"Gents, I have in hand a check—a bribe you might call it—from the plaintiff for $10,000 and another from the defendant for $15,000. I propose to return $5,000 to the defendant, and decide this case strictly on its merits."

Learn to live a day at a time—that's tough enough.

VP Rushes To Bedside Of Father

Leaves Convention Suddenly To Visit Dad In Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO—UP—President Eisenhower held court for Republican notables in his hotel suite today as the hour approached for jubilant GOP convention delegates to register formal assent to the renomination of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

In Los Angeles, Frank M. Nixon, the father of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is in critical condition from an arterial condition resulting in internal bleeding, his physician said today.

The vice president rushed from the San Francisco Republican National Convention this morning to be at his father's bedside.

The elder Nixon, 77, the vice president's father, was stricken about 7 a.m. (EDT) with what the family doctor described as a "dissecting aneurysm of the aorta" in the abdomen.

"Mr. Nixon's condition is critical and actually is a splitting of the layers of the wall of an artery," said the physician, who did not wish his name to be used.

"The patient suffers excruciating pain as the blood is forced through the layers of the vessels and nothing can be done to relieve the damaged tissue," he said.

"These things frequently terminate fatally," the doctor said. "All we can do is pray."

The elder Nixon, at his own personal request, was not hospitalized.

Vice President Nixon who talked with the doctor this morning asked that the family physician take complete charge as a "personal request."

Harold E. Stassen's dogged hope that Mr. Eisenhower would plug the plug on Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the last minute went a-glimmering with the official word that the president still would be "happy" to have Nixon for a running mate.

White House aides said Mr. Eisenhower expected Nixon to be (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

L'town Man, Kin Held On Burglary

A Levittown man and his brother-in-law were committed to Bucks County prison last night after they were held without bail on a charge of burglarizing the Simons Lumber Company, Cornwall.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The men were identified as Nick Ercole, 32, of 58 Lakeside drive, Levittown, and Rinaldo Calandra, 32, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Chief William Riempff, of Bensalem township, said both men were also under suspicion for the reported burglary of the Eddington Plumbing Supply company, last October.

The two men were apprehended after they had taken a case of paint and some turpentine from the lumber company.

Morrisville Council Sets Aside Offer

Residents Protest Use of Commission Land For Playground

The Morrisville Borough Council decided last night to set aside an offer by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to sell the borough a plot of land on Wood street to be used as a playground.

The commission would lease the plot of land to the borough for $1 a year, requiring that the borough take out liability on the property.

The decision to table the matter came after Councilman Neal Nolan said that about 100 residents in the area of the proposed playground appeared before his committee protesting the use of the land as a playground.

Councilman Thomas Purcell agreed with Mr. Nolan and said he felt it was too late in the year to start a playground and that it would mean more money for upkeep until ready for use.

Sawyer Persistent Pressing for the borough's acceptance of the land was Councilman John Sawyer, saying that the objecting residents represented only about two per cent of the people in the ward, while the playground would be available to all youngsters in the ward or community.

The issue was referred back to committee for further study. In other action, Mr. Sawyer (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

L. S'hampton May Join Police Net

Lower Southampton Chief of Police Edward Wunsch today announced that the police department has submitted application to join the Bristol township police radio network.

"The Lower Southampton department was formerly connected with the Norristown police radio," Chief Wunsch said. "Recently we were informed, along with the communities of Warminster and Upper Southampton, that a new radio affiliation had to be secured," the law enforcer said.

"Application to join the Bristol township network was made last week. It is expected to be official within the next 10 days," Chief Wunsch added.

A contract calling for $500 for the first radio car and $350 for the second car will probably be signed in the immediate future.

It has not been officially announced as yet but it has been reported that Warminster and Upper Southampton will also make application to join the Bristol township network.

In addition to these townships, the network now includes the townships of Bristol, Middletown, Newtown, and Bensalem, and the Boroughs of Pennel, Tullytown and Newtown.

The five runnersup who will receive $5 each are: Pat Weller, 14, of 41 Merry Turn road, Levittown, a tenth grade pupil at Delhaas High school; Stewart Alexander, 16, of 4706 Eugene drive and Bath road, eleventh grade pupil at Delhaas; George Lee, 9, of 25 W. Pearl street, Burlington, N. J., fourth grade pupil at St. Paul's; John Schweizer, 16, of 627 Spruce (Continued On Page 3, Col. 1)

During a discussion last night, Leonard Freidman was appointed chairman to work out details on the plan. The idea is suggested by national PTA organizations. Through it, all social, civic, service, and other non-political organizations get together in a given municipality.

They hold a "convention" and nominate people on the basis of qualifications only, to run for school board openings. The citizens' groups involved then work actively to get their choice into office.

Ruth Lotto, civic association member, said the plan had been considered by the LCA several years ago. She said late planning and the stumbling block of getting such candidates on a primary ticket, because of the political party setup, had defeated the idea.

In other business, the association talked of plans to hold a forum on the incorporation. The tentative date being considered will be sometime in November.

Arrangements were also completed last night for the association's participation in the Levittown Community Festival to be held this weekend at the Mall of the Shopping Center.

Holly Delk, Levittown, Wins Contest

'Golden Rule Days' Slogan Award Given By Mill Street Group

Holly Delk, 10, of 66 Kindel lane, Levittown, won the Mill Street Businessmen's Association "Golden Rule Days" slogan contest.

Holly, a sixth grade pupil at the John Fitch School, Levittown, took top honors, and a $25 savings bond, for her slogan "Mill Street Bristol has stood the test. For complete family shopping it's the best."

The five runnersup who will receive $5 each are: Pat Weller, 14, of 41 Merry Turn road, Levittown, a tenth grade pupil at Delhaas High school; Stewart Alexander, 16, of 4706 Eugene drive and Bath road, eleventh grade pupil at Delhaas; George Lee, 9, of 25 W. Pearl street, Burlington, N. J., fourth grade pupil at St. Paul's; John Schweizer, 16, of 627 Spruce (Continued On Page 3, Col. 1)

However, her husband, who was working at Fairless Steel when the fire broke out, said his wife turned on a washing machine in a utility room which automatically started an adjoining hot water heater.

He theorized that the heater ignited nearby drapes and spread through the utility room.

He said his wife was apparently out in the yard hanging clothes, and when she came in, she found the room ablaze.

Firemen said the first alarm was turned in by a neighbor, Mrs. Lou Hackett, and a youngster set off a second alarm at the nearby Fairless Hills fire company headquarters.

About 60 firemen from Fairless Hills, Falls and Levittown Fire Co., No. 1 put the blaze out in less than a half hour, preventing it from spreading to adjacent homes.

Inside Today's Paper

Two more weeks and school opens. For news of the Lower Bucks School districts and individual schools, you can read today's issues of the Courier and Times.

Most districts will have record enrollments. And several have new schools to be used this year, or are planning new schools.

For Pennsylvania High school students, there are homeroom assignments. Parents have another section to consult, too, for school days. That's the special advertising section.

Across The World--

Paul Comly French follows the London Conference on the Suez Canal. Our thinking, he says, must conform to the idea that imperialism is no longer part of the times, and countries are acting much as the United States did when it first gained freedom. Page 13.

The old Watts House, once a center of activity for community meetings of Levittown organizations, is now near ruin because of vandalism. Owned by the Levitt and Sons firm, it had been turned over to the Levittown Civic association for administration as a Community Center. The organization, however, turned it back to its owners when maintenance became a problem. It is located on the Fallsington-Tullytown road, near the former Route 13 Home Exhibit Center. Notice all the broken windows. (Courier and Times photos)

Egypt Set to Quell Suez Pilot Revolt

LONDON — UP — Egypt hinted today it would take action against British and French ships in the Suez Canal zone if French and British pilots resign or "feign sickness" in order to disrupt navigation on the waterway.

Dispatches from Cairo made it clear the Suez crisis was far from ended despite the Suez conference.

railroad and probably could attract an industry which might employ several hundred workers.

The real estate firm wouldn't identify the name of the firm which has purchased the Pacific Steel Boiler plant. A spokesman for the agent said "Settlement is not quite completed yet." But he added that the new owners would "probably issue a statement as to the number of people who would be employed and the type of work which would be carried on."

The plant was closed down last December following a merger of the Pacific firm with National U. S. Radiator Corp. The local operations were transferred to Middletown, near Harrisburg. Only a skeleton maintenance crew is employed at the plant now.

Gaither Page, plant supervisor at the Hunter Wilson building, said the plant has been used merely as a warehouse since 1953. Five men are employed to store barrels of whiskey.

Before 1953 whiskey was bottled at the plant and an average of 150 workers employed, Page said.

He said he didn't know anything about the latest developments except that the building has been placed in the hands of a real estate agent and a sale sign posted on the building.

He added that the one story building has 152,000 square feet of floor space and sits on a 35-acre site.

street, Bristol, an eleventh grade student at Bristol High school, and Marie Mitchell, 11, of 2101 Bath road, sixth grade student at St. Marks.

The winners will receive their prizes tomorrow morning. Leon Kanter, chairman of the Businessmen's Association's promotion committee, will present the awards.

The winners were selected by a committee of merchants who served as judges.

The contest was held in connection with the association's 'Back to School' promotion which will be held tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The Mill St. Businessmen have a special Golden Rule Days edition which is included in today's paper.

They will also be giving away free rulers to children.

Falls Rejects Ordinance On Firearms

The Falls Township Board of Supervisors last night rejected a proposed ordinance that would almost prohibit the use and sale of firearms in the township.

Following the rejection, the Board decided to meet with members of the National Rifle Association, the Township's recreation department and other interested individuals sometime in the next ten days to gather suggestions that would contribute to an ordinance that would be satisfactory to a larger group of residents.

The rejection in a good measure was due to the opinions expressed by NRA representatives last night who said they felt the proposed ordinance would restrict the use of guns as a sport in the area.

Dixon P. Blanchard, chief instructor of the Lower Bucks County Junior Rifle club told how his group's program stressed and promoted safety in a rifle program.

Robert Frederick, former president of the Levittown Civic association also spoke against a strong ordinance and for a ruling that would allow the recreational sport.

In other business, the board took under advisement an ordinance dealing with the construction of phone booths in the township.

Bristol Set For Contest

Bristol, for the seventh consecutive year, will be the scene of the Eastern States Championship Drum and Bugle Corps contest on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Bands and marchers from all over the Eastern boards will strut and play under the arc lights of the Bristol High School stadium athletic field that evening in the "World Series of Drum and Bugle Corps."

The National Drum and Bugle Corps association made the decision to return to Bristol at a recent meeting in Jersey City, N. J., citing the hearty welcome the borough of Bristol accorded them in the past years.

Arthur Straccio, director of the Bracken American Legion cadets of Bristol, host corps, predicted that the 1956 contest will see the "finest array of drum and bugle corps ever" to appear on a competing contest field.

Music Circus 'Can-Can' Rates With The Best

You'll like Cole Porter's "Can-Can" at St. John Terrell's Music Circus at Lambertville.

No difference if you've already seen the Broadway or road versions. The lively, provocative, slightly naughty and occasionally zany Music Circus production compares favorably with either.

The girls are pretty and they dance with zest.

The cast leaves little to be desired for it is comprised of "pros" who have been around and get in the mood of Paris' wicked Montmartre of the 1890's with delightful enthusiasm.

Veteran Player

Ferdinand Hilt, who plays the confused Judge Aristide Forestier who has difficulty distinguishing between right and wrong is a veteran of the original Broadway "Can-Can" company. After chasing justice all evening he finally finds it in India Adams, another seasoned "Can-Can" performer who sings, dances and loves well, even while chasing a quick dollar with her "laundresses" and keeping the production all fun with never a serious moment. If the opening night last night was any criterion, "Can-Can" should set a new attendance record during its three-weeks' run at Music Mountain. The premiere was a complete sell-out. — — — GGG

Finalists To Vie For Title Saturday

Twenty-eight Levittown teenagers will compete in the semi-finals of the Miss Levittown contest tonight at 8 o'clock on the Mall of the Levittown Shopping Center.

Finalists chosen will appear at the same time and place Saturday evening to vie for the beauty honor as part of the community festival planned for this week-end.

Arrangements for the contest are being made by the Levittown Youth Association under the sponsorship of the Bucks County Traveler and Levittown Kiwanis club.

Morrisville Council Sets Aside Offer

raised the question of purchasing additional parking meters before an up-coming price raise after August 29. The councilman suggested that about 50 new meters were needed and said the cost would be slightly over $2,325. He said the meters were priced at $66 each but the cost of that would be cut by a $20 trade-in offer on each old one.

Police Chief John S. Davis, appearing at the meeting, said that all 36 meters on Pennsylvania avenue are in need of replacement along with others on Bridge and Market streets.

The matter was turned over to the police committee for discussion at a meeting next Monday.

The council approved a motion that the crosswalks and parking spaces should be painted before the opening of school. Work on the painting began today.

Jack Goldberg, 929 Carteret avenue, Trenton, owner of a business on Bridge street, appeared before the council and requested that the parking meters on Market street be taken off for a six-month trial period. The request was denied by the council on the grounds that the meters had been taken out previously and the merchants seemed to want them back.

The finance committee reported that a $1,640 "uncollectable" bill on the books should be written off. The committee reported that it was decided that legal responsibilities could not be accurately determined. The council voted to write the bill off the books.

The council unanimously voted to make a $500 contribution to the Morrisville Library.

The question of trees pushing up sidewalks in the borough was broached. Shade trees are pushing up sidewalks causing damage to the sidewalks and leaving room for possible injury to passers-by, the council said.

Borough ordinances prevent persons from cutting trees or their roots without permission from the shade tree commission. The matter was referred to the finance committee and to the shade tree commission.

The borough council decided to give vacation pay to hourly employees of the borough based on two per cent of their yearly pay to level out the difference between their vacation pay and that of employees paid weekly.

The council requested the Civil Defense head to submit a yearly report on his organization's activities for the year. A motion to face-lift the park area around the Community Swimming pool was tabled for further study.

Council approved the appointment of John Zack to fill the unexpired term of Francis Triolo on the Board of Adjustment. The term expires January 1, 1959.

Twp. Buys Guard Outfits

The Bristol Township Safety Committee last night opened bids for school crossing guards' uniforms, a panel body pick-up truck and a new police car.

Two bids were submitted for uniforms for the 17 crossing guards. The committee recommended that the Board of Commissioners accept the bid of Hirsch Tyler clothing manufacturer of Philadelphia. The firm offered to supply the uniforms — caps, jackets and skirts for the 10 women guards and caps, jackets and trousers for the seven men guards — for $980. The other bid, submitted by Saco Uniform company, of Philadelphia, was $1045.

Harold Lefcourt, committee chairman, said the township will be the first municipality in this area to have uniformed guards.

Four Truck Bids

Four bids were opened for the truck. The low bidder was Bristol Ford — $1398. But Lefcourt said the firm did not submit a certified check with the bid as required. The committee will check with the township solicitor to see if the bid is acceptable.

Mill Creek Road To Open

The Mill Creek road stretch between Mill Creek parkway and Edgely avenue will be completed and opened to traffic tomorrow, Bristol Township Roadmaster Bill McCool said today.

The 1800 or more foot area has been reconstructed and widened. Better drainage facilities have also been provided.

Bristol Township workmen have been working on the road for the past two weeks. During that time, it has been opened and closed intermittently for the convenience of motorists.

A top surface was put on today.

Mother Reported Slightly Improved

Mrs. Irene Niemczak, 19 South Eastview avenue, Feasterville, was reported slightly improved at Nazareth hospital this morning.

Mrs. Niemczak was critically injured in an automobile accident which killed her two-year-old daughter, Loretta, on Monday. The accident occurred on Bustleton Pike near Bell's Corner.

nominated, without fuss or feathers, at this afternoon's convention session.

Plays Convention Politics

The President meantime plunged with apparent relish into what he called the "interesting" game of convention politics. Big names of the party, including National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Convention Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr., were invited to his heavily-guarded suite in the St. Francis Hotel in a steady parade during the morning.

Stassen sought a place in the parade but was told that there was no chance of an appointment before this afternoon, if then.

The hard to discourage Minnesota had one more string to his bow, however. He appealed to Martin for a chance to address the convention before the vice presidential balloting began. Martin wondered out loud whether Stassen might be planning to "throw in the towel" on his dump-Nixon campaign. But Stassen refused to reveal in advance what he had in mind.

Block Stassen Threat

Some pro-Nixon delegations threatened to block the appearance of Stassen who, as a non-delegate, requires unanimous consent to speak. But Nixon urged his supporters to let Stassen say his piece.

A few individual delegates, like Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, were still talking of objecting to a Stassen appearance. But in the noise and confusion of a convention session in the vast Cow Palace, it would be easy enough for Chairman Martin to suffer a hearing lapse on scattered "noes" and gavel through permission for Stassen to take the rostrum.

The victory fever which seized the delegates upon Mr. Eisenhower's arrival from Washington on Tuesday night mounted steadily today as the hour approached for the nominating session.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, a two-time loser for the presidency, drew the task of warming up the delegates with a speech before they began voting for the renomination of their first winning ticket in 24 years.

Dewey charged that the last Democratic administration was marked by "fixing and bribe taking" and said Democrats now "want to start doing it all over again."

himself burned by the acid he allegedly threw into Riesel's eyes on April 5. The FBI in announcing that Telvi had thrown the acid, said he had scarred his own face with it, thus making him sue "hot" his associates killed him.

City police, however, say they did not notice any scars on Telvi's face when his body was examined last week and got court permission to re-examine the remains.

Police Investigate L'town Burglary

Bristol township police today are investigating a reported burglary at the home of Mrs. Claire Nathanson, 27 Oaktree drive, Levittown.

Mrs. Nathanson told police her husband missed his watch and a gold chain when he prepared to leave for work this morning. The housewife told police investigators that the burglary presumably took place sometime yesterday afternoon when she went to the movies.

Police said Mrs. Nathanson told them that the burglar must have gained entrance with a key that they had misplaced or lost.

The Nathansons did not miss the watch until this morning, police said. Criminal investigation detectives Wallace Michener, Charles Haines and Sgt. Thomas Stewart believe the burglary may have been committed by a juvenile.

Driver Is Jailed On Drunk Charge

Al Bower, 33, of Levittown, was committed to Bucks County Prison yesterday on a drunk driving charge.

Bower, who was brought in on a bail bond, is being held for trial in county criminal court.

Falls Democrats Quick To Register

Democrats out-registered Republicans in Falls Township on Monday by more than two to one.

The one-day registration was held at the Pennsbury Heights sample home from 2 to 9 p.m.

The next registration day in the township will be on Monday at the Fairless Hills Shopping Center and the Fallsington Elementary School from 2 to 9 p.m.
